Interactive Coloring ...

So much more than “just coloring.”

This is a free sample of my interactive and pattern filled coloring sheets.

As an art teacher, artist, and lover of all things “artsy,” I am a big proponent of “art for art’s sake.” My “pop art” interactive coloring sheets are designed such that they can be used any time in your classroom for the sake of making art.

However, I am a teacher so I understand how hard-pressed classroom teachers are for time. You might not feel like you can give up precious lesson time to let the kids “color.” In that case, I suggest that you can use these interactive sheets as writing prompts.

These are not just ordinary coloring sheets. As one of my Instagram followers said:

I found that my 5th/6th graders come to me and because of the focus on testing, never played with color or design or patterns. Your products give them that opportunity and I’ve seen so much improvement in their attention to detail as well as noticing patterns, lines, etc. It’s so much more than “just coloring.” ~E.D.

Students spend a lot of thought and consideration when deciding where and how to draw the patterns on each design. Students also have to color small details which improves their fine motor skills which help with many things--handwriting being one example. If your students were to make several of these (along with writings as well) they would have a beautiful portfolio at the end of the year!

I have also included a free pattern filled design as well as the interactive. This is to allow you some room for flexibility with students that might otherwise struggle to add the patterns themselves. This also makes this product helpful to teachers from grades PreK-6th.

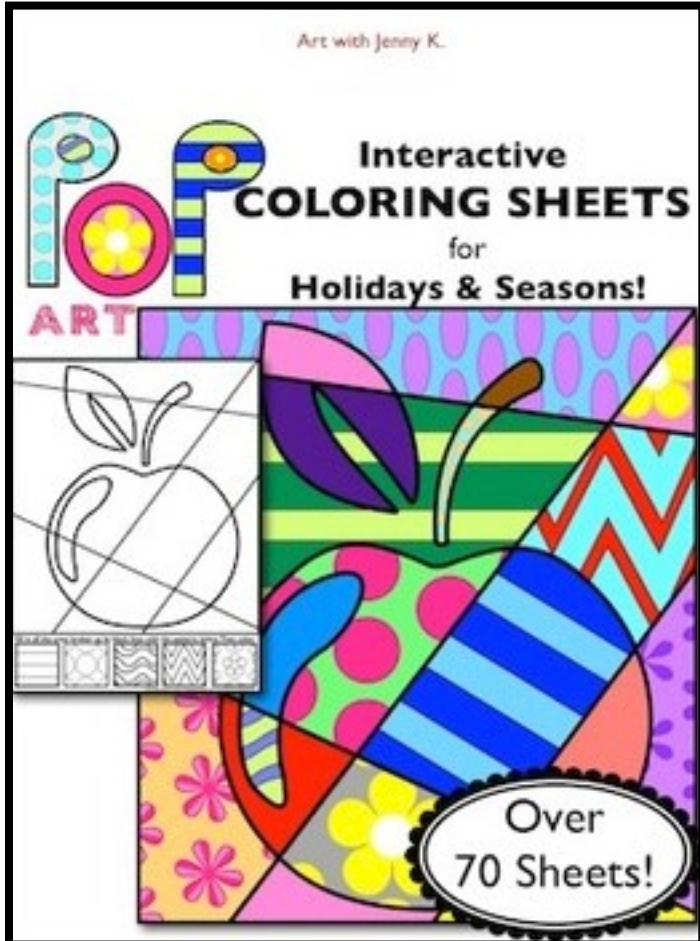

Testing is a part of life, as we know. So use these to start the brain in the morning before testing, or use them when students finish early so they have something creative to do after testing. I’ve even had teachers comment that these interactive coloring sheets are great to use with students when one-on-one conferencing is necessary to keep the other students engaged and busy. If you love these sheets you can save big by purchasing a collection of interactive coloring sheets from my TPT store click HERE.

In this FREEBIE I have given you a sample of one of my interactive “Pop Art” coloring sheets and one of my pattern-filled Pop art coloring sheets.

The full collection of both of these types of products are available in my TPT store.

Enjoy this FREEBIE as we get ready for SPRING & SUMMER!!!

Please note: The 13 patterned-filled designs are included in the larger coloring book. No need to have both. The Interactive coloring sheets for holidays and seasons has everything in it!

These pictures are from a teacher who is using the pages from my Pop Art Interactive Coloring Book as writing prompts for the year. Her students are making a book that will be full of art and writing at the end of the year! What a wonderful treasure this will be for the students, parents and teachers!

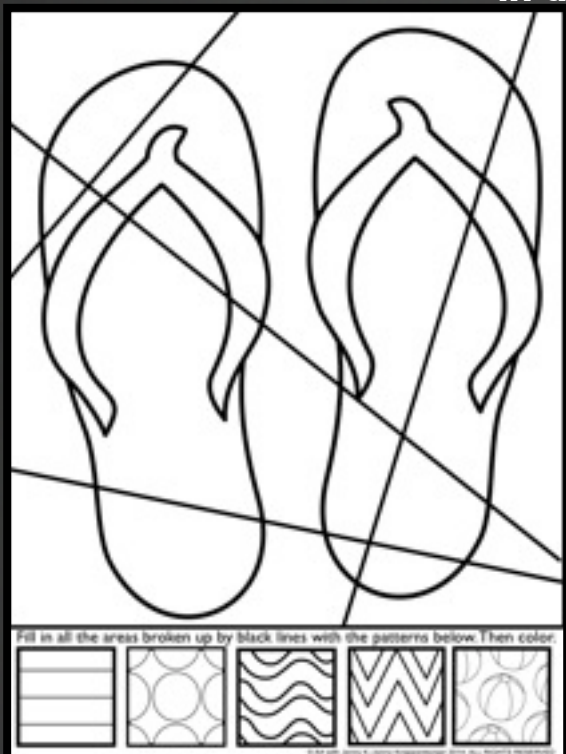

So much more than “just coloring.”

Interactive Coloring Sheets

How-To

1. Using the patterns in the five small boxes at the bottom of each page, fill in the different parts of the pictures. Every time you run into a black line you need to change the pattern. You don't have to put patterns in all the areas, you can leave some blank. It's okay to repeat the patterns in different sizes in different areas.

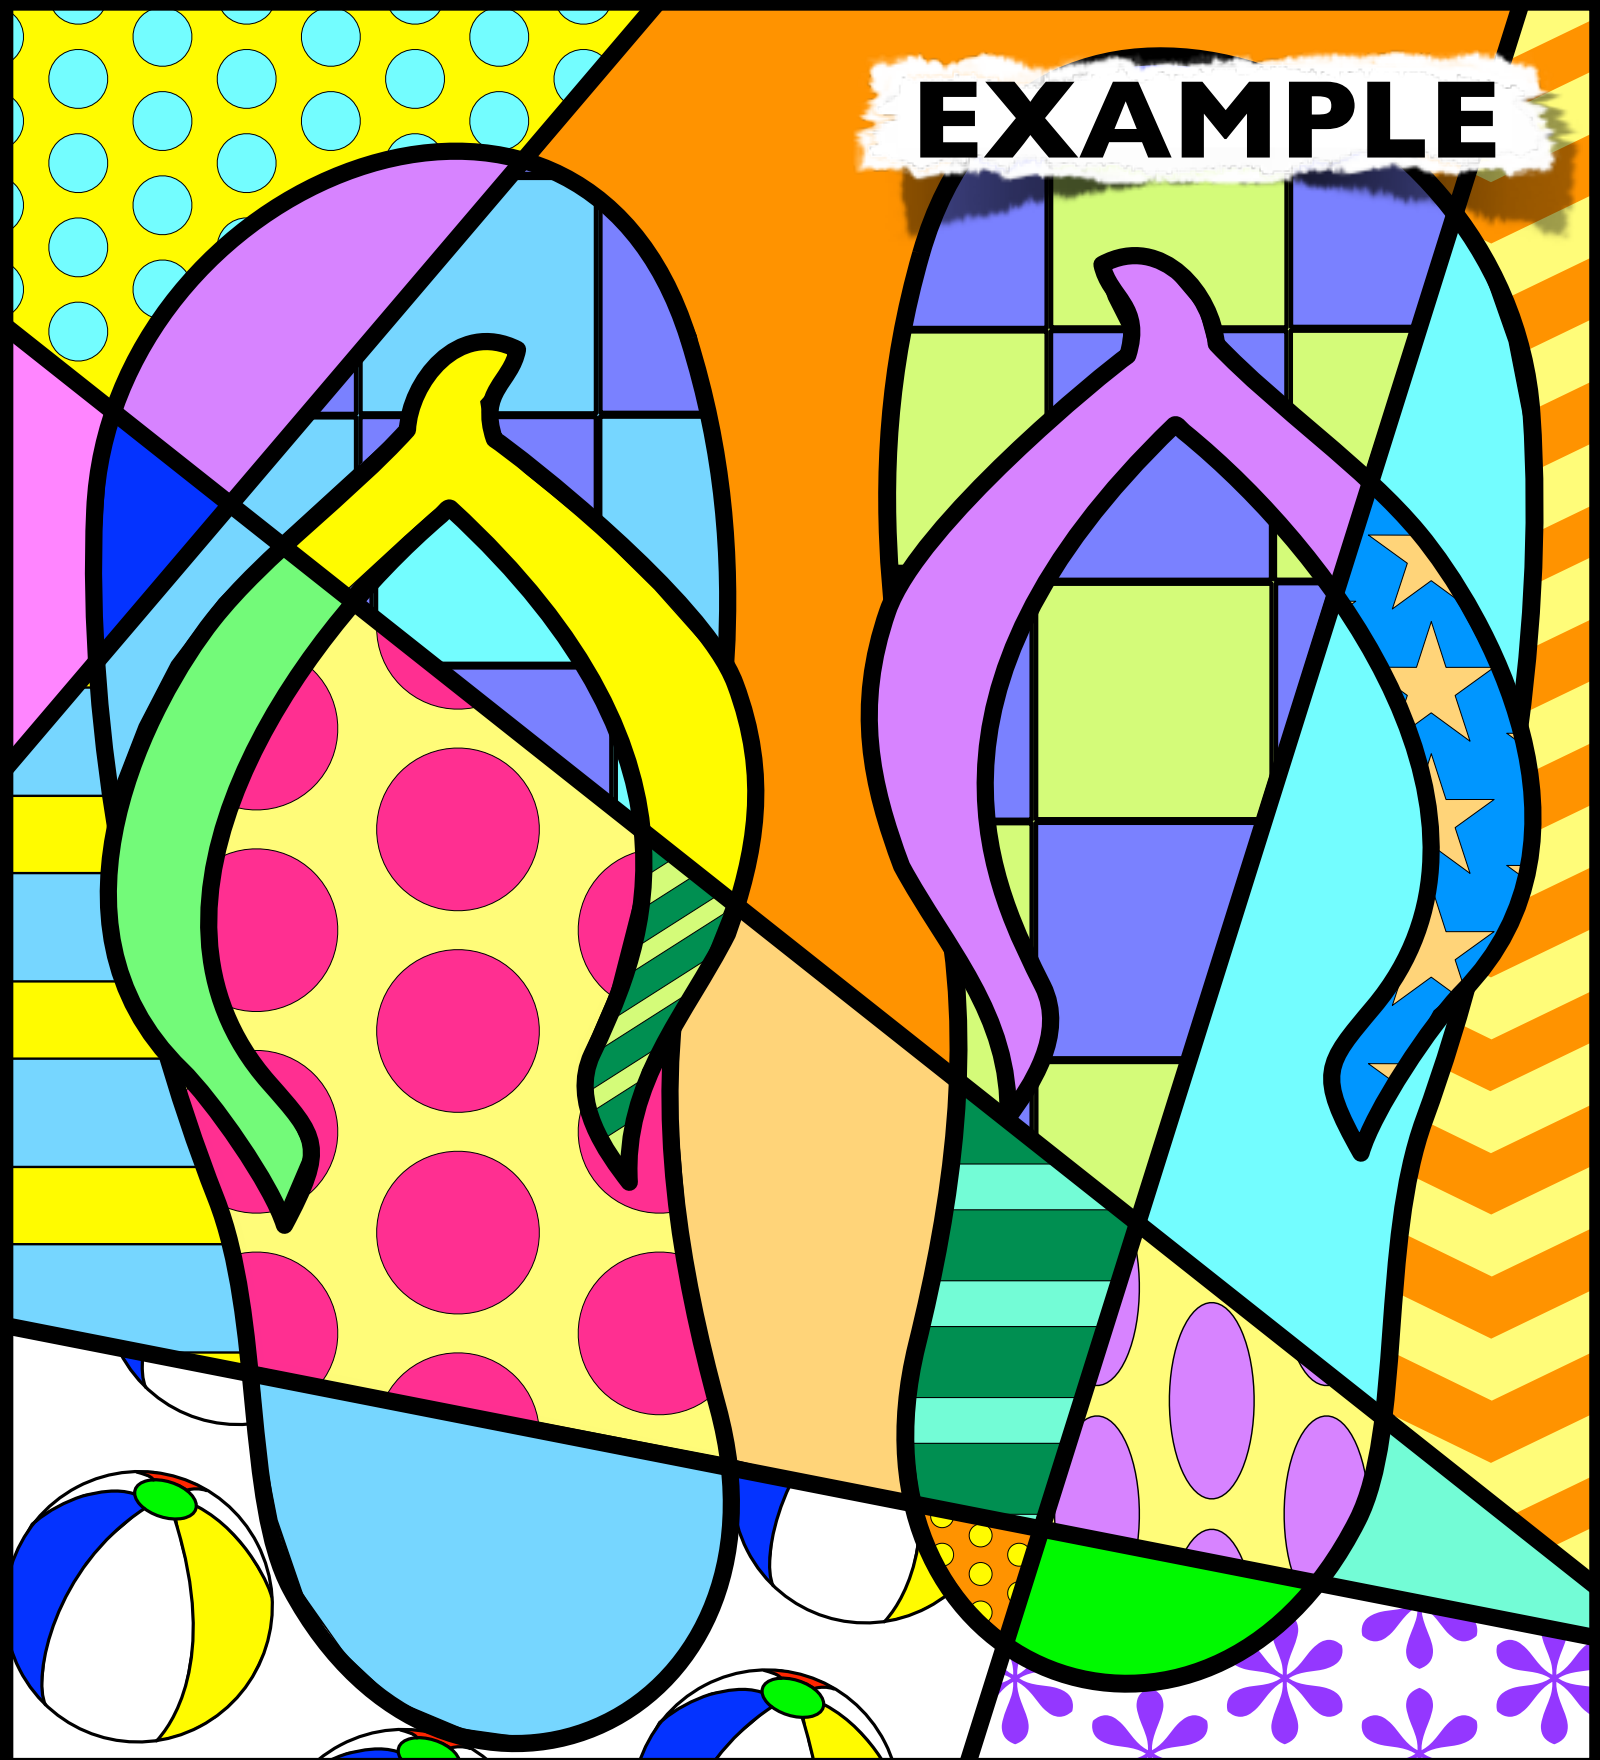

2. Color all the shapes and patterns. Use crayons, colored pencils or markers.

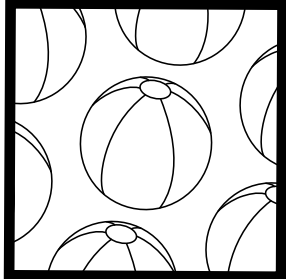

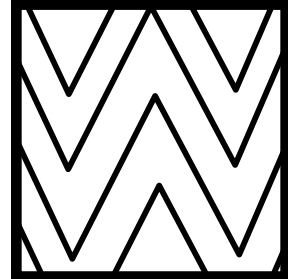

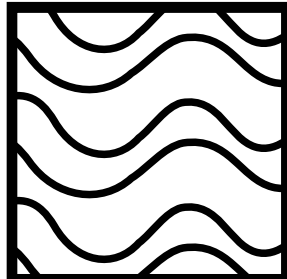

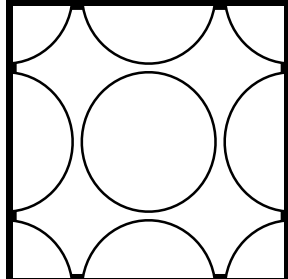

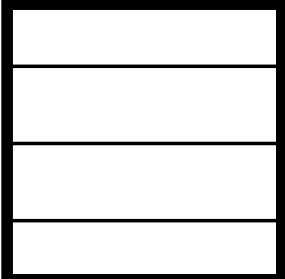

3. Cut out the large rectangle at the top with the finished work. Display for all to see!

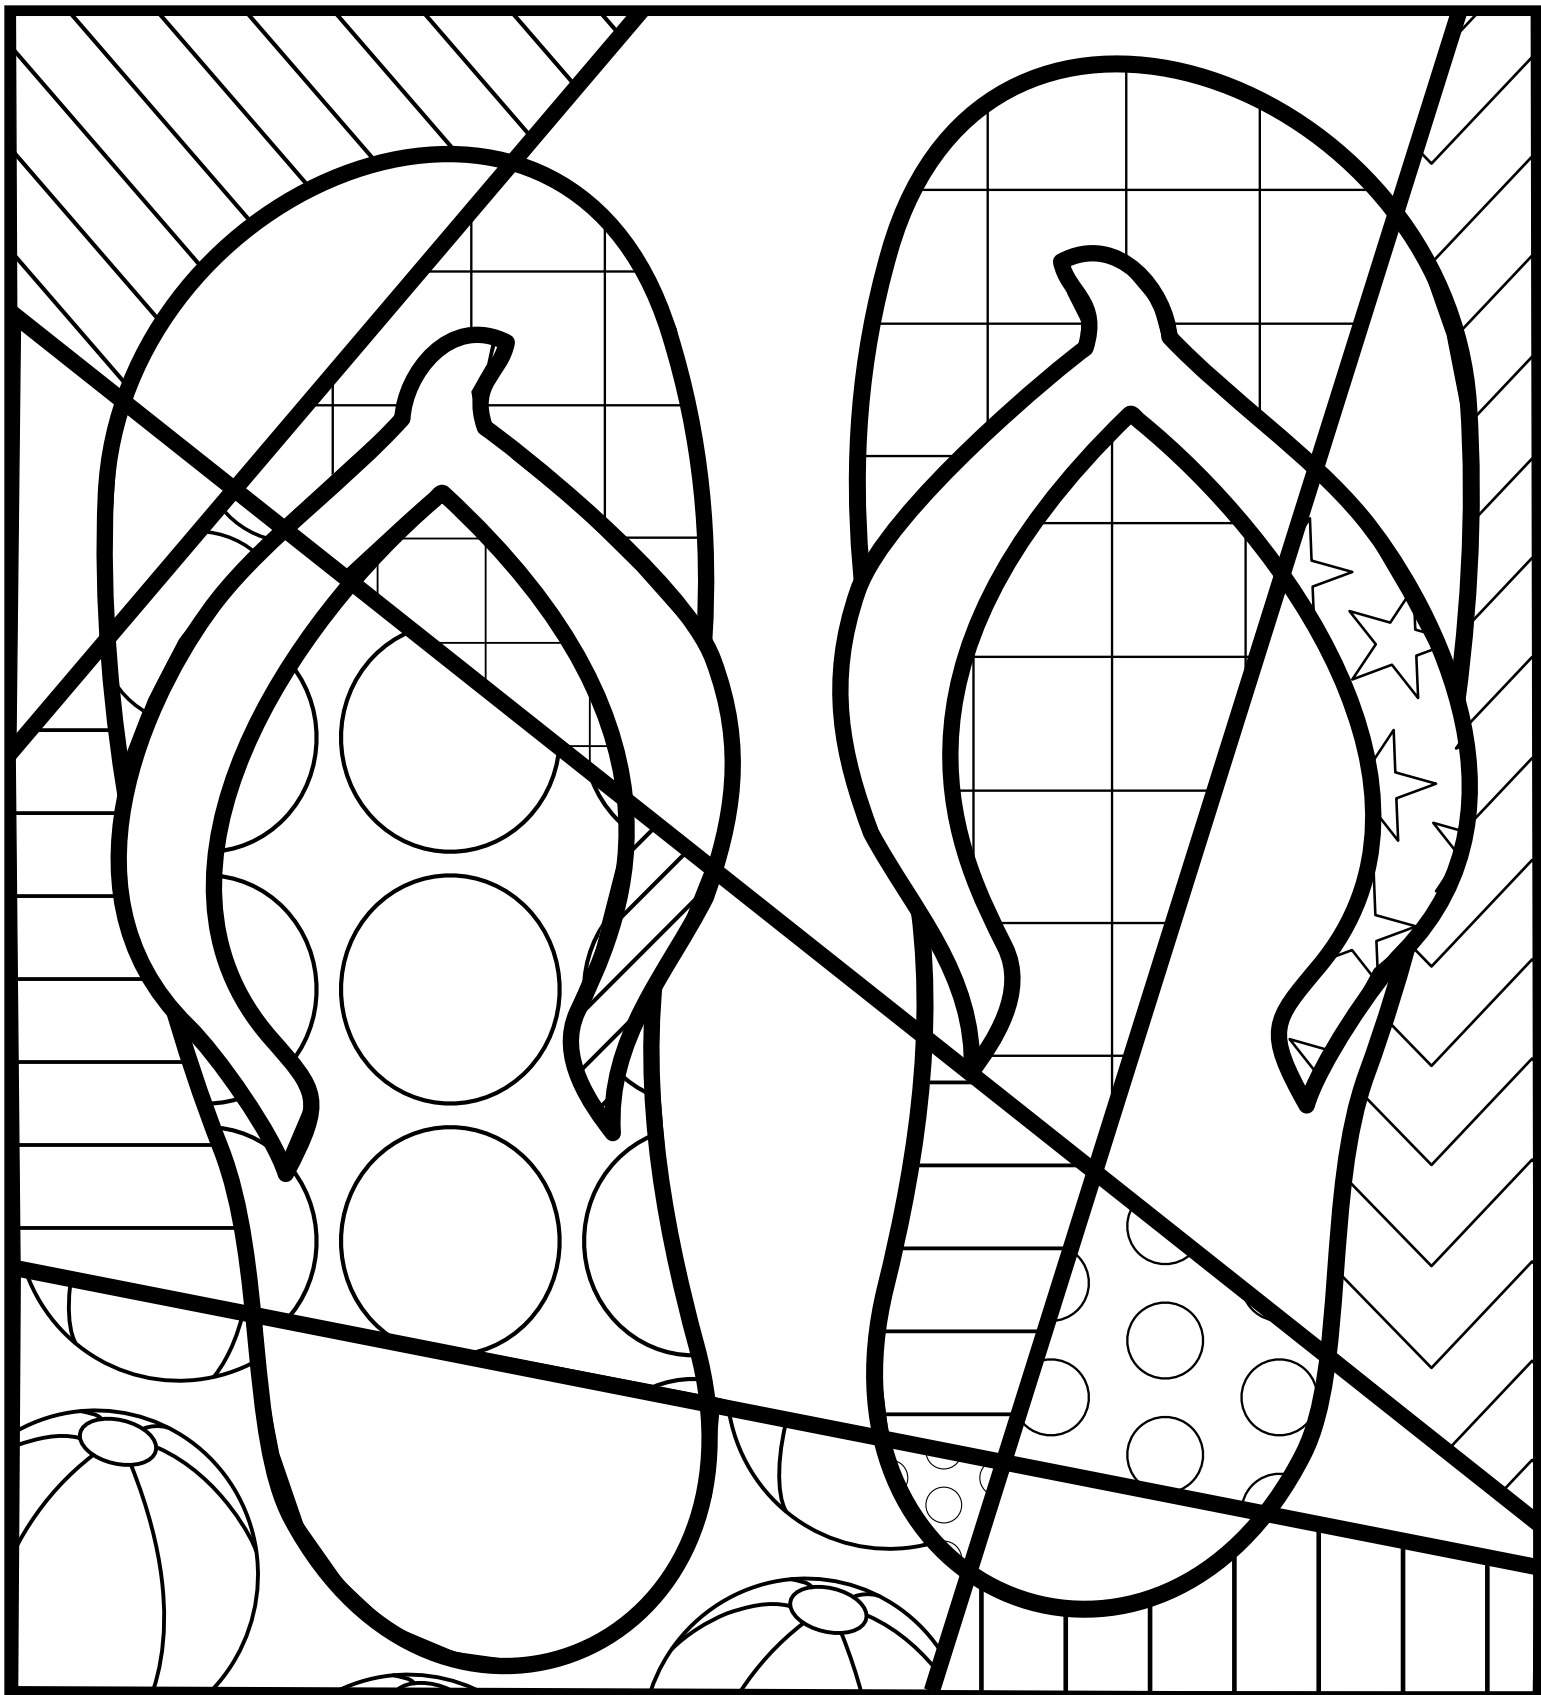

EXAMPLE

Fill in all the areas broken up by black lines with the patterns below. Then color.
